Haddock in Salem Waters.

A Salem dispatch says that haddock in large quantities are being caught in Salem bay, which is an unusual occurrence. Ordinarily it is necessary to go well out into Massachusetts bay to catch haddock. Striped bass, which have been strangers to the Salem bay for many years, are also being caught. Fishermen are unable to explain why these fish have made their appearance in local waters.

WEEKLY FISH MARKET.

Trade shows a little improvement the past week. The market is steady and firm and no changes in prices are noted, either on cured fish or fresh or salt fares from vessels.

The sealing fleet has found a few fish out south, but the season there will now be short, as many of the vessels will go to the Cape Shore. Some however will probably stay out there if there is any prospect.

The receipts at this port for the week ending May 7 are 95,000 lbs. salt cod.

501,000 lbs. fresh cod.
57,000 lbs. halibut.

Early May Fishing in New Hampshire and Maine.

Good fishing is being reported from New England's Lakes. In New Hampshire last week in Lake Winnepesaukee over thirty trout averaging four pounds apiece were caught, and the salmon are topping six and a half pounds. Newfound lake is sending forth some likely samples, and Sunapee has her usual crowd of callers. In Sebago dam in Maine last week some bouncers weighing 14, 12, 10, 8 and 7 1-2 pounds respectively were landed. The fishing in all lakes where the ice has left is first-class, and, from the present outlook, it appears that Moosehead and Rangeley lakes will be on the fishing list by the middle of next week.

Don't go fishing without the Boston & Maine's beautiful illustrated booklet, "Fishing & Hunting" and the new book just out giving the game laws of Maine, New Hampshire, Vermont, Massachusetts, Nova Scotia, Newfoundland and New Brunswick. You can procure them both by sending two cent stamp to the General Passenger Department Boston & Maine Railroad, Boston, Mass.

Gill-Netting Big Cod.

A new kind of cod fishing has been undertaken at Boothbay Harbor, the netting of cod in gill nets, sunk near the bottom. One boat for three days this week has brought in from 10,000 to 12,000 pounds daily of cod taken off the Cuckolds, each fish weighing from 20 to 40 pounds. The meshes of the net permit all under a certain size to pass. Now fishermen need not depend on bait, and this removes one great trouble and expense in the business.

May 7

MORE MACKEREL AT NEW YORK.

Capt. Charles H. Harty Arrives with 150 Barrels.

NETTERS ALSO LANDING FISH.

The Fish Still Remain to the Southward.

A special to the TIMES this morning from its New York correspondent, gives the following arrivals at Fulton dock with mackerel:

Sch. Mary E. Harty, Capt. Charles H. Harty, 150 barrels fresh mackerel.
Steamer Lydia, 300 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Lafayette, 1200 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Alert, 500 fresh mackerel.
Sloop Maxwell, 500 fresh mackerel.
Sch. Alena L. Young, 400 fresh mackerel.
Sloop Albion, 400 fresh mackerel.
Steamer Princess, 500 fresh mackerel.

A letter from Capt. Solomon Jacobs of sch. Victor states that the mackerel are still well to the southward. He got his haul in such shoal water that he was obliged to use his smallest seine. The school surrounded was so large that the seine burst, but he succeeded in saving a good trip, 14,000 fish in count.

Big Stock and Shares.

Sch. Kineo, Capt. John Stream, stocked $2600 on her recent Georges halibut trip, the crew making the fine share of $76.31 clear for their two weeks work. Since Capt. Stream fitted out two months ago, he has made the fine stock of $6300.

Sch. Senator, Capt. Nathaniel Greenleaf, stocked $1900 on her recent three weeks halibut trip.

Sch. Lelia Norwood, Capt. Alfred Johnson, stocked $2780 on her last trip and the crew shared $78.

May 9

Vessels Fast in Ice.

Two French fishing vessels have been driven ashore by ice floes on the west coast of Newfoundland, whither they were bound to secure bait. Their crews were saved, but the vessels were destroyed. Seven ocean steamers, bound into the gulf of St. Lawrence for Montreal, are fast in the ice off Cape Ray. An immense ice pack blocks the route of the steamers.

Fresh Fish Sales.

The fares of schs. Rob Roy and Arthur Binney sold to Slade Gorton & Co., that of sch. Metamora to Cunningham & Thompson, and that of sch. Dido to Reed & Gamage.
